About This Game

From the creators of the award-winning Arma™ tactical military shooter series comes a next-gen re-imagination of a groundbreaking 80s classic. Set in a vast open archipelago, Carrier Command: Gaea Mission brings a breathtaking combination of action game and strategy elements!

As a result of a catastrophic war between the United Earth Coalition and the Asian Pacific Alliance, Earth has been rendered an almost uninhabitable wasteland. The only hope lies in a distant planetary system, where the moon Taurus holds the key to restoring Earth's dwindling water supply. As a battle-hardened member of the surviving UEC forces, Lt Myrik is put in command of an armed vehicle carrier. By traversing the seas and establishing a network of island bases, his mission is to hunt down the enemy and conquer the Dead Zone on the planetoid Taurus.

Key Features

- Story-Driven Campaign

Follow the immersive storyline as you evolve from underdog rookie to Carrier Commander in a battle against overwhelming odds.

- Strategy Campaign

Experience the original 80s classic; select startup settings, the balance of power and challenge the enemy carrier to an ultimate strategic duel. Explore 30+ unique islands in 6 distinct climatic zones.

- Island Network

Roam the seas to establish a network of island bases for defense, mining and manufacturing. A steady supply of resources is vital to your campaign's success.

- Unit Customization

Build new upgrades and weapons for your Carrier and combat units, but keep an eye on fuel and ammo.

- Join the Action

Get into the heart of the action by taking direct control of any unit. Shift seamlessly from combat vehicles to strategic map via the unique Picture-in-Picture window.

Kill space Asians for space first world countries. Boats also, like 2. But the boats are so cool it's ok. Actually pretty frickiin sweet game so like fr this is p good. Except it sucks sometimes.. Ever wanted to be captain on a carrier? This game is really fun: launch patrols, perform air&ground strikes, manage loadouts, research weapons, resupply units... it's really fun.

The storyline is pointless, but you can play a Skirmish mode that lets you set how hard you want the game to be. Basically, its your carrier vs. theirs, so be sure to keep your supplies high and defences up... you never know when that carrier arrives!

Perform all actions from the carrier and watch the AI perform strikes as requested (most of the time). Or fly the planes/tanks in first person manually and reign terror on the enemy fortifications. Strategy makes a good difference: sling load tanks, repair in-field, fire missiles, fire arty, drop bombs, launch nukes... lots of options.

Conquer the map and remove the enemy defences, take their supplies and grow your team. It's like any strategy game, but with the fun of 1st person.

Enjoy!. Very engaging game if you like an interesting blend of RTS V FPS base building conquering. Ambitious and mostly successful, but a pain in the\u2665\u2665\u2665\u2665\u2665in the beginning. Definitely worth buying when it's on sale!. I really tried to give this a good go. Huge fan of the original game with 16 colours. I can get around the terrible AI and it path finding. What I can't stand in a game is the buggy crashes every 5-10 min. It wouldn't be so bad if the F5-F9 quick load and save keys would work. Its common to clear half the island and have the game crash to desktop. Replaying that section could take 2-3 hours (because of more crashes). I don't have the time to do this over and over. Its not fun to play!

The path finding works for the most part, But will ultimately fail when you need it most. Its comical when you force drive a stuck walrus over a bridge. Only to see it masterfully drive back the wrong side again again with no trouble.

The game feels clunky. A buggy mess. Don't buy this.
